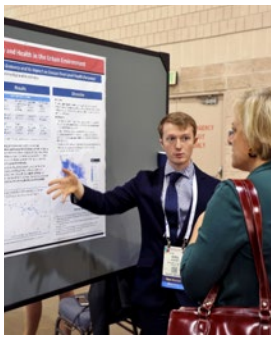
START A CHAPTER OF DELTA OMEGA

Delta Omega
Honorary Society in Public Health

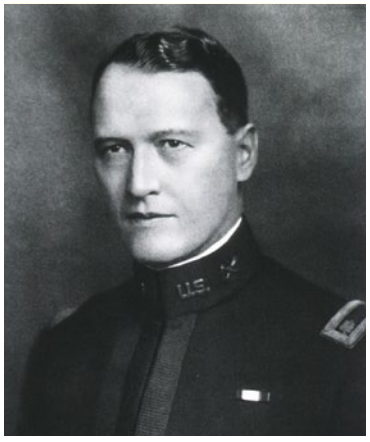


Delta Omega, the honorary society for public health, was established not only to recognize academic merit, but also to encourage further excellence in and devotion to public health work. Over 140 chapters have been established at CEPH-accredited schools and programs.

FOUNDING OF THE SOCIETY

In 1924, two graduate students established the society at the Johns Hopkins University's School of Hygiene and Public Health. They wanted to organize a group that would acknowledge academic excellence in and professional dedication to the field of public health. Since the initial founding of the Society, the meaning and scope of public health have broadened tremendously.

Dr. Claude W. Mitchell



Dr. Edgar Erskine Hume

CHAPTER APPLICATION PROCESS

Eligibility

- All CEPH-accredited schools and programs, including standalone baccalaureate programs, are eligible to start a chapter of Delta Omega
- Applications accepted year-round
- No fees to start a chapter

Application process

- A letter of interest from Dean or the Program Director.
- Two letters of support written by the faculty/staff who will lead the chapter in its initial year and establishment. (We encourage you to make full use of any current Delta Omega member already on your campus.)
- A proposed timeline for the chapter's first year and planned activities.

Support to new chapters

- Onboarding as requested
- Chapter calls
- Chapter resources and templates
- Access to Delta Omega Merchandise
- Convenient online reporting and ordering system
- Options for chapters and/or inductees to submit payments

TO ESTABLISH A CHAPTER: visit deltaomega.com/new-chapter or email info@deltaomega.org